CRIME AND CONSENT: A FEMINISTIC RE-VISITATION

ORGANISED BY:
CENTER FOR CRIMINAL LAW

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF STUDY AND RESEARCH IN LAW, RANCHI

ON NOVEMBER 18th, 2017

ABOUT NUSRL

National University of Study and Research in Law (NUSRL), Ranchi was instituted in the year 2010 by Act No. 4 of Jharkhand State Assembly with the motto “नसतो विद्यते भावो नाभावो विद्यते सतह”. The vision is to inculcate within the students the nuances of legal culture and instil within them a passion for law, cumulatively with sound legal knowledge, skill, courage, and integrity requisite in the administration of justice and to contribute qualitatively to the growing legal fraternity across the nation. In a world that is fast and constantly changing, students of law must constantly update their knowledge, skills and techniques to match the level of efficiency and professionalism expected from them in the 21st century. The University incorporates various methods and techniques to help the students match that level of expectancy and achieve success in their careers, simultaneously adding quality to the professional sphere of legal practitioners in the nation.

ABOUT CCL

The territory of law extends over several different facets of its composition, of which, criminal jurisprudence holds a position of paramount significance. Criminal law encompasses within itself not only the statutory mandates and the judicial interpretation, but also takes into consideration the various aspects of the society and of the individual. This branch of jurisprudence involves careful study of the facts and the circumstances revolving around it. The Center for Criminal Law aims at increasing the scope of, and widening the understanding of these different aspects regarding the criminal jurisprudence, in the students. The seeds for the much needed reformation of criminal jurisprudence of tomorrow are to be sown today. The students of law in the present times are going to define the future of law. Hence, the inculcation of nuances regarding this field, in the students of law, is necessary to secure and maintain effective administration of justice in the Indian society in the days to come.
